

Name:

The image displays a vertical column of 12 blank musical staves. Each staff is a five-line system with a treble clef positioned at the beginning. The staves are arranged from top to bottom, providing a template for writing musical notation.